

ENGINEER'S EXPULSION DEMANDED BY REDS

Mexican Miners in Labor Upheaval Threaten U. S. Company

AVAILOS, Chihuahua, Mexico, April 18.—An industrial upheaval, ushered in with many red and black flags, broke out here today when labor unionists employed here demanded the expulsion from Mexico of John R. Enlow, manager of the American Smelting & Refining Company. The demand was made by 500 miners who first paraded with red and black flags.

The demand followed the announcement of Acting Governor General Acosta Rivera that he had fined Enlow 300 pesos on a charge of mistreating Benigno M. Palacios, state deputy representing the governor at a conference at which Palacios headed a delegation of Mexican officials and labor union representatives.

Demand More Pay

The unionists have given the smelting companies eight days to comply with their ultimatum. Besides the expulsion of Enlow they have demanded a long list of "improvements," including a request for higher wages and the discharge of certain foremen. The miners also are insisting that the company accept the provisions of the state labor law.

American mining companies in general have declared the terms would be ruinous if enforced.

Palacios at first was prevented from entering Enlow's office, he reported to the governor, although later he was granted an interview when his mission was made known.

J. R. Woodull, manager of the Mexican division of the smelter company, is on his way here from El Paso, Texas, to confer with Enlow. Enlow has been a prominent figure in Mexican mining development for 20 years.

Reids in Mexico

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 18.—The civil government of Vera Cruz has been overthrown by men calling themselves Bolsheviks, and a negro longshoreman has been elected mayor, according to reports brought here today by Sarason General Homer S. Cummings, who stopped off here en route east from a trip into Mexico.

Three Free on Charge Of Gasoline Theft

An investigation has exonerated Don Yates of 329 West Acacia avenue, Charles Greer of 132 North Pacific avenue and Joseph G. Dean of a charge of attempting to steal gasoline from the filling station at 101 South Central avenue according to Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of the police department.

Mrs. G. Pinder of 1327 Vassar street stated that the three men had been repairing her car at night and had been authorized by her to get gasoline at this filling station on her account. While attempting to awake some one on the premises, they were arrested by Patrolman Peter Grijalva of the Glendale Private Patrol.

REVOLUTION NEAR

LONDON, April 18.—A revolution is threatened in Egypt, according to reports received today from Cairo. The foreign office announced martial law would be declared if violence broke out.

Five Officers in Red Army Executed, Is Report

LONDON, April 18.—Five staff officers of the red army, accused of espionage, were executed at Petrograd on orders from the Moscow soviet government, said a Central News dispatch from Helmsington this afternoon.

Premier A. Bonar Law presided at a meeting of the British cabinet today when Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, made a general report upon foreign affairs. It is believed that Great Britain's attitude towards Russia was discussed in detail.

One Killed, Nearly Score Wounded In Ruhr Riots

ESSEN, April 18.—One man was killed and nearly a score of others were wounded in unemployment riots in the Ruhr today.

At Muelheim a mob of jobless Germans stormed the city hall. French troops occupying the city made no effort to interfere. Muelheim is the home of Hugo Stinnes, the German industrial magnate.

Cash Balance of Ford Company Is Over 200 Million

NEW YORK, April 18.—Henry Ford declared today that the cash balance of the Ford Motor Company still exceeds $200,000,000 in spite of large purchases of coal and timber lands, water power sites and branch plant investments, according to a dispatch from Detroit to the Wall Street Journal.

Ford said, according to the dispatch, that these investments were all paid for in cash where such arrangements could be made and that the money he was spending simply came out of the current earnings.

"As yet," he said, "we have not thought of borrowing any money."

Ford said the first step he has taken in connection with development of his coal distribution himself was the letting of contracts for doubling River Rouge coking ovens. Contracts for steel have been let and construction will begin soon, he asserted.

"When these are finished," he said, "we will double the coking ovens again."

FATHER AND SON WILL MEET AT BANQUET

Fourth Annual Y. M. C. A. Event Takes Place May 1 at Central Christian

The fourth annual Y. M. C. A. "Father and Son" banquet will be held Tuesday night, May 1, 6:30 o'clock, at the Central Christian church, announces Secretary Rex C. Kelley, and Dr. George P. Taubman, pastor of the Long Beach church and teacher of the largest men's Bible class in the world, has been engaged as the principal speaker.

Dr. Taubman's Bible class, held at a Long Beach theatre and drawing weekly crowds of over 2000, has been given national attention in the newspapers and magazines, and it is considered indeed an honor to have such a celebrated speaker address the people of Glendale on that night.

The banquet is being held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and its co-sponsor will be Theodore Haig, president of that organization, while David Black, president of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A., will act as chairman.

Plan Big Event

It is the desire of Secretary Kelley, Mr. Black and the boys to make this year's Father and Son banquet the most successful to date. In order to do this, it is hoped to pack the hall at the Central Christian church, which holds 700, as last year's banquet was attended by 540 Glendaleans and friends.

It is particularly wished to have the men cooperate with the boys in bringing to this banquet young men who have no fathers of their own, acting as "Father" pro tem and helping to give them a thoroughly good time. In order to team up as many fatherless boys as possible in this manner, the Y. M. C. A. will act as a sort of clearing-house for boys, says Secretary Kelley, who wishes every man of Glendale who will act as escort for one or more boys to get in touch with him between now and May 1.

San Francisco Holds '17 Years After' Day

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—San Francisco today celebrated "Seventeen years after." Today was the seventeenth anniversary of the earthquake and fire that struck San Francisco seventeen years ago and destroyed sixteen square blocks of the city. One hundred speakers told school children the story of the city's rise from ashes. The burning of the four-masted sailing vessel Monadora was a spectacular feature of the observance.

Four Wooden Vessels Damaged by Flames

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Fire of undetermined origin broke out today in a fleet of ten wooden ships, anchored in the Potomac river below Quantico, Va. Four of the vessels were partially destroyed, according to a report to police headquarters here, and three others were cut loose and towed to safety.

TWO KILLED

WARSAW, April 18.—Two Poles were killed and several others wounded in guerrilla fighting on the Lithuanian frontier today. The commander of a Polish military station was kidnapped by Lithuanian irregulars.

WOMEN AID DE VALERA IN FINAL ATTACKS

Capture of Men Leaders Leaves Irregular Chief Alone in Field

By DANIEL O'CONNELL
For International News Service

DUBLIN, April 18.—The capture of Dan Breen and other irregular leaders left only women in the fighting field today as the chief lieutenants of Eamonn de Valera. Free State military officers said they were still searching for the men in the region of the Glen of Aherlow, where Breen was taken. Rumors were carried that de Valera already had been seized and was being detained secretly, but this was denied from responsible sources.

Capture of Breen and his republican colleagues was followed by a most spectacular battle on the Kerry coast. Guerrilla chiefs had established headquarters in a cave on the precipitous cliffs overlooking the Atlantic ocean. A narrow, winding path led to the mouth of the cave, which was covered with shrubbery.

Fierce Attack

Through capture of documents, Free State troops learned of the existence of this retreat. A small detachment of soldiers was sent to take it, but the irregulars opened fire, killing a private and wounding a lieutenant.

The Free Staters drew back to the top of the cliff. Bombs exploded, tearing up masses of rock, but the Free Staters could not tell whether or not any damage had been done to the interior.

Additional Free State troops were brought up, and while rifle fire was kept up against the entrance of the cave, the troops moved down the path, taking up positions alongside the cavern. Machine guns were lowered and placed in position. Volley after volley was fired into the cave, while the irregulars, hiding behind rocks at the entrance, returned the fire.

Various Rumors

Mystery, amounting to almost superstition, is growing up around de Valera. Two reliable witnesses claim he was in Dublin Sunday. There was another report that he was wounded at the same time Liam Lynch was shot and captured. Still another rumor had him wounded at Waterford and his body left lying in a bog. All of these reports were discredited.

The real truth seems to be that the Free State authorities believe the time is not yet ripe for de Valera's seizure. He will be killed during a raid by Free State troops in Dorset street today.

Simplicity to Mark Funeral of Prelate

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—The funeral of Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle, venerable prelate of the Episcopal church, who died at his home here yesterday, will be "as simple as the poorest member of his church."

These arrangements will be carried out in accordance with the wishes of the late bishop. He will be laid to rest in Bellefontaine cemetery at 2 o'clock Friday a.m.

The body will lay in state in the Christ church cathedral Friday. No sermon will be preached at the service, but a song, selected by the bishop during the illness preceding his death, will be sung.

School Bonds Will Be Sold April 30

The grammar school board of education, which met last night in its offices at 109-A South Brand boulevard, received a communication from L. E. Lampton, clerk of the county board of supervisors, stating that the $500,000 worth of bonds approved at the recent school election will be sold at the county building, Los Angeles, April 30.

J. D. Hibben of 123 East Laurel street, president of the local board of education, was selected to represent it at this sale and was authorized to accept the bid which seemed most adequate.

Arthur G. Lindley of 123 South Belmont street was selected as the architect for the four additional class rooms and the temporary bungalow at the Broadway school.

Charles Rittenhouse of 1319 South Orange avenue was chosen as the architect for the three class rooms to be added to the Magnolia school.

Community Service was given permission to have bonfire on the Broadway and Grand View school grounds, provided proper precautions were taken to prevent fire.

Price of Sugar Soars To New High Record

NEW YORK, April 18.—A new high record for sugar was made today when the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company posted a price of nine and eighty-five hundredths cents a pound.

Showers In Southland With Some Snow In Hills; Rain Record In Glendale

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Intermittent showers fell today in various parts of southern California, with some snow reported at Mount Wilson, Mount Lowe and Mount Baldy, according to Colonel H. B. Hersey, in charge of the United States weather bureau here.

The forecast for today was: Rain this afternoon and tonight. Thursday, probably fair.

The rainfall in this section of the state was reported as being light at nearly all points.

The record for Glendale, as reported by H. E. Bartlett, follows:

Rainfall last night .33 inches.
Rainfall to date 12.13 inches.
This time a year ago 26.37 inches.
Same season two years ago 12.72.

Delegation From Glendale C. of C. at Valley Meet

Representatives of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce were in attendance last night at the dinner, which was held by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando Valley at the Porter hotel at San Fernando, when addresses were delivered by Congressman Walter F. Lineberger and by John P. Kennedy of the Los Angeles Public Utilities board.

Congressman Lineberger urged the careful study of all the problems relating to the better development of California and of the United States in general, and advocated a close analysis of all legislation introduced in either the state or the national legislatures. This should be done, he declared, by every Chamber of Commerce, in order that the interests of the various communities might be properly safeguarded against inimical legislation.

Mr. Kennedy dealt in his address with the better transportation facilities that are needed for Los Angeles and for all of the adjacent communities.

The principal matter of interest to the Glendale delegation was the approval of the organization of the mayor that was recently given to Mayor Spencer Robinson dealing with the sewage problem. This letter was originally issued by the president and secretary of the associated Chambers of Commerce, and at last night's meeting it was unanimously endorsed by the representatives of all the organizations included in the valley group.

Oratorical Contest To Be Held On Friday Morning

The annual oratorical contest, which is regarded by the student body as one of the big events of the high school calendar, will be held Friday morning in the Glendale theatre.

Owing to the fact that several students took severe colds last year when the event, as usual, was held out-of-doors, a decision was reached by faculty advisers to hold this year's contest indoors. For this reason, no booths will be possible.

School will adjourn between 9:30 a. m. and 12 m. and members of each class will march to the Glendale theatre. Places will be awarded to the class exhibiting the most harmonious costumes. The motifs of these costumes will typify the theme of the class orator.

Miss Betty Higgins, secretary of debating, is in charge of this school function. Orators and their subjects will be: George Karcher, freshman, "The World's Greatest Need;" Miss Elsie Whitney, sophomore, America, the Life Line;" Miss Isabel Tousey, Junior, "Making the Promised Land the Land of Promise;" Fred Peck, Senior, "Pan-Americanism, Its Obstacle."

Sugar Exchange Active; Price Reaches New Mark

NEW YORK, April 18.—Activity in the sugar exchange bordered on the violent today and transactions occurred in Cuban raw sugar at 6 1/2c a pound, including freight. This is a quarter cent a pound above the previous high mark for the year.

There was also an excited "option market" and raw sugar for July delivery was quoted at 6.49c a pound. September delivery was quoted at 6.63c.

The wholesale price of refined sugar kept pace with the raw product and several companies raised their quotations to 9.60c.

In some respects the market today was similar to the first stages of the sugar boom in 1920 when Cuban raw sugar sold at 23c a pound.

Urge Development of Verdugo Canyon Water

The Verdugo Canyon Water Company held its adjourned annual meeting yesterday afternoon in the council chamber of the city hall and passed a resolution requesting the City Council of Glendale to take such action as might be deemed necessary to develop the water of Verdugo canyon, and to protect all interests connected with it.

The new board of directors, which was elected, consists of J. C. Sherer, president of the company, Daniel Fuller, James Connor, S. A. Davis, W. H. Reeves, Peter Diederich, and J. F. McLarty. George Woodbury is secretary.

Rush to Assistance Of Distressed Vessel

KEY WEST, Fla., April 18.—Wireless calls for help were received early today from the steamer Topaz, which gave its position as in the Gulf of Mexico some 120 miles from Havana, Cuba. The steamer Monterey was immediately sent to the aid of the distressed steamer.

DENY LABOR SHORTAGE NEAR ON PACIFIC

Eastern Centers Report Lack Of Men But This Coast Has Enough Workers

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—There is no labor shortage in California and probably will be none this season, according to the State Department of Labor which maintains employment agencies in all of the larger cities and is probably the largest labor clearing agency in the state.

"From all information now on hand from the various agencies, we believe there will be no shortage this year and none exists at present," the department announced officially today.

Murray & Ready, the largest private employment agency handling all classes of labor in San Francisco, did not subscribe entirely to this view. An official of the company said that evidences of a labor shortage had been noticed for the past two weeks and, while it was not acute, labor was not plentiful. It was said by Murray & Ready that due to seasonal demands a shortage in supply was usually encountered in May, but that it had been noticed unusually early this year.

Oregon reported plenty of workers in the industrial and trade fields with a surplus of "white collar" workers.

Washington, a check showed, the demand for labor was well up with the supply with more jobs than men for farm labor. It was said that the mines, government, reclamation projects and the lumber industry could absorb practically all men seeking work.

Labor Is Scarce

NEW YORK, April 18.—The acute labor shortage is being reflected in the Bowery famous harbor of the unemployed.

The howey is practically deserted. Jobs are going begging. Employment agencies are in a quandary, investigation by International News Service revealed today. It is as Judge Elbert Gary the steel magnate, says—labor is scarce, decidedly so.

Remarkably enticing offers of $25 to $30 a week, eight hours a day, and good living conditions confront the passerby from huge signs, but there are few to pay attention to them.

The down-and-outers, from whose ranks unskilled labor used to be recruited, are hardly seen. Some agencies have been hit so hard by the non-appearance of the unemployed that they have closed offices.

The agents admit they are able to supply only about two per cent of the men asked for. Scarcely (Continued on page 12)

Daylight Raid Nets Rich Haul for Thief

While Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Galbraith were both away from their home at 453 West Colorado street and while their brother, James Galbraith, was busy in the yard in front of the place, the bungalow was entered from the rear and ransacked. Four hundred dollars in gold coins and ten shares of stock in the Coast Tire & Rubber Company of Oakland, valued at $125, were taken from a trunk.

The home of C. L. Viereck at 311 East Stocker street, was entered and a number of articles stolen including a small diamond ring, a child's bank, a wrist watch, and a suit of clothes.

Burglars Get Away With $25,000 In Silk

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—A gang of skylight burglars early today broke into the factory of A. Newmark Company, in South Los Angeles street, and made away with $25,000 worth of silk shirts.

The robbers hauled their loot away in a motor truck and used an alarm clock to warn them of the approach of watchmen, according to the police.

Engineer Killed in Fast Freight Wreck

NEW ORLEANS, April 18.—Fast merchandise train No. 52, Illinois Central, bound from New Orleans to Chicago, was wrecked at Hammond, La., early today, killing Henry Haften, engineer. The injured are Fireman John Rogers, leg crushed; brakeman George Smith, minor injuries.

ASKS REPORT

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The interstate commerce commission today called upon the major railroad systems of the country for detailed reports on the condition of the equipment and for other information needed by the commission in its investigation of economy and efficiency of management in the operation of the carriers.

New Marathon Dancing Record Is Established

CLEVELAND, April 18.—Setting a mark for all would-be marathon dancers to shoot at, Miss Magdalene Wolf, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon had danced for seventy-three hours and thirty minutes, and said she would continue on until she reached or passed the 100-hour mark. She began her record feat at noon Sunday.

CLEVELAND, April 18.—

To the strains of a "Long, Long Trail," Miss Magdalene Wolf today tottered into undisputed possession of the marathon dancing championship for which have appeared in Baltimore, Houston, New York, Cleveland and other cities within a period of only a few days. She had passed the sixty-nine-hour mark and was still dancing. At the same place, an hour and a half earlier, James M. Casey, Milwaukee, Wis., a salesman, doing a Highland fling as a finale, hung up a new men's record of sixty-six hours and seven minutes.

"Both records were cleanly made, and these two are entitled to all the honors they can get," said Dance Hall Inspector Johnson. "Never once did they lean upon their partners, and they obeyed all rules."

"I wasn't after a record," Casey declared as he quit the floor. "I just quit when I got tired."

Here are the other marathon dancing records of the past six weeks, with dates, places and hours:

March 6—Sunderland, England, 9:30.

March 6—Marseilles, France 14:36.

March 31—Paris, 24:20.

March 31—Alma Cummings, New York, 27:00.

April 6—Ruth Mollack and Jack Butler, New York, 40:00.

April 9—Alma Cummings, New York, 50:00.

April 12—Helene Mayer, Cleveland, 52:15.

April 14—Six couples stopped by police at Baltimore, 53.

April 15—Magdalene Williams, Houston Tex., 65:58.

April 17—Madeline Gottschalk, Cleveland, 66:09.

April 17—Vera Sheppard, New York (dancing in three states), 69:00.

Order Deportation of Noted Irish Agitator

WASHINGTON, April 18.—James Larkin, noted Irish agitator, recently pardoned by Governor Al Smith of New York, will be deported shortly, it was announced today by Secretary of Labor Davis.

Larkin was imprisoned for alleged radical activities. His attorney, Jeremiah O'Leary, of Philadelphia, was ordered to present him to the officials at Ellis Island to carry out the deportation order.

U. S. Air Service Secures Number Of New Records

DAYTON, Ohio, April 18.—The United States air service "brought home the bacon." Today Lieutenants John A. Macready, Oakley G. Kelly and Harold R. Harris are receiving the congratulations of their superior officers in Washington and hundreds of friends for their remarkable achievements of yesterday and last night.

All three of them had a hand in "shooting the moon" and their two airplanes hung up records which only France of everything she claimed.

Macready and Kelly, who started their world endurance flight Monday morning at 9:40, landed last night at 9:43, after being in the air for 36 hours and five minutes and covering a distance of 2,516.18 miles.

Lieutenant Harris meanwhile was clipping off the miles against time at an average hourly speed of 114 miles for the whole distance of 11 hours, approximately.

He broke existing records for 1500 and 2000 kilometers. He started his flight at 6:28 a. m. Tuesday and landed at 5:21 p. m. the same day. Harris flew much lower than the T-2 which remained at 2000 feet practically all the time.

Then the navy got in the game just to show the army that it could do something in the way of flying on its own hook.

Lieutenant Rutledge Irvine, Anacostia station, Washington, D. C., set a deadweight carrying record in a Dayton-Wright naval plane just built. This flight lasted two and a half hours and convinced even the most skeptical of the stability of his ship.

The plane was loaded with a 1600-pound torpedo and 600 pounds of shot, making the total weight of the plane with the pilot and observer 6000 pounds. It climbed upward and upward and touched 11,300 feet. Then the naval fliers concluded to call it a day and they came down to receive their share of the congratulations which were being piled up for the other fliers.

American Denies Soviet Is Conducting Religious War

BERLIN, April 18.—Mason S. Day, head of the Barnsdale Corporation of American Oil corporation, who has just returned from Russia, where he obtained oil concessions, denied today that the soviet government is conducting war against religion.

"It is absolutely wrong to suppose the Moscow government has decided to combat Catholicism or religion generally," said Day. "Father Butkiewicz, the Catholic prelate who was put to death on religious grounds. It was proved in court that he had carried on Polish propaganda, tend-

GIVE REPORT ON PARLEY OVER S. P. STATION

City May Condemn Property To Secure Access to Proposed Site

Consideration of the report of the depot committee that held a conference with the Southern Pacific officials last Saturday occupied the attention of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon in the Citizens' building yesterday, when the members of the committee submitted their report to the board. W. E. Hewitt, vice president, occupied the chair in the absence of President Jesse E. Smith, who came in later.

George B. Karr, chairman of the civics committee, stated that he and those with him had urged that the new depot be placed as near as possible to the street car lines, as the distance from Brand boulevard to the present proposed site of the new station would be about 2000 feet, a long walk for persons who might have children and luggage to carry over that distance. The Southern Pacific is willing, he declared, to change the site of the depot if it can be found possible to open a street from Brand boulevard that will afford easy access to the station, and for this purpose its engineers will be here within a few days to re-survey the depot, in order to determine and consider possible alterations in the plans that have already been adopted. It may be necessary, it was stated, to institute condemnation proceedings against some of the property that might lie adjacent to any new site selected for the depot, in order to permit ready access to it, but this matter would be handled by the city officials through the regular legal channels provided in such cases.

Need Thoroughfare

The principal difficulty in securing a change of site for the depot, City Manager W. H. Reeves stated, lies in the fact that, at present, no street opens directly on the site recommended by the committee, but it is believed that his can be overcome by the institution of condemnation proceedings and the work on the new depot, for which the Southern Pacific has already appropriated the money, can be started in the immediate future. It is the plan of the railroad officials to have declared, to spend at least $50,000 on the Glendale depot and to make it one of the most attractive on the entire system, serving West Los Angeles, Pasadena and Hollywood, as well as Glendale.

Captain D. Ripley Jackson, another official, sounded a warning to the directors, who stated that a too strenuous insistence on a change of site for the depot might result in the building of it being delayed for another two years.

BURBANK

KIWANIS CLUB TO STAGE CAMPAIGN

Losers in 'Kalling Kontest' To Entertain Winners At Dinner Dance

Activities of the K. K. K. are also going strong in Burbank, and promise to create more stir than the city has seen in many a day. The visitations of the Triple K's are increasing daily and it is understood that their plans call for personal attention to a large and selected list.

It is understood that the city authorities have not been consulted in the matter, and what action they will take when the matter is laid before them, as it inevitably must be, no one seems able to predict. Some say that it is within their power to stop these activities while others say they have no jurisdiction whatever in the affair, and that it will be ignored by them unless subsequent developments require their attention.

The present K. K. K. plans call for over 3500 visits for those interested, in order to make the thing a complete round-up. And peculiar as it may seem, only the "Blues" and the "Whites" are allowed to participate, the "Reds" being barred.

The losing side, it is understood will be hosts to the winners at a big dinner dance, the time and place of which will be determined later.

Kiwanian Stunt

The entire program of the Kiwanis Kalling Kontest, which is the full and complete spelling out of these particular three K's, involves an active campaign of every one of the more than sixty members, each of whom is expected to call on every other member at his place of business, and secure his signature before May 9. The total of these calls, sixty multiplied by sixty, makes the above-stated 3600 visits.

The Blues and the Whites are the two sections into which, for the purpose of stimulating members, the club has been divided for this Kontest.

Give Fine Program

The Fine Arts club of Pasadena, last night presented a musical program at the Thomas Edison school, under the auspices of the Burbank Choral club.

There were the following performers—Junia Wolf, soprano, supervisor of music in the Pasadena schools; Ruth Pinkerton, contralto; George Brown, tenor, treasurer of the Fine Arts club; C. A. Mortimer, bass, conductor of the club and its president, dean of the Southern California Guild of American Organists; Reginald Bland, violinist, two years leader of the Pasadena Community orchestra; Mrs. Lois Brown McManus, accompanist; Cora Bryant Hayward, reader.

Section Meeting

The recent meeting of the Current Events-section of the Women's club proved to be one of the most enjoyable and profitable sessions the section has ever held, unexpected enthusiasm prevailing throughout the hour and a half it was in session.

The topic was "The City We Live In," and Mrs. Cora Clark, who spoke on "Form of Government," divided her talk into three parts—city, schools and churches, closing her address with an original poem.

Mrs. H. R. Coburn spoke on "The Citizen's Part in Government," indicating the need for reality, and that one must realize there are certain duties not to be shirked, such as jury service and voting.

Mrs. Sherlock's topic, "Replanting Small Cities," pointed out the necessity for widening streets, acquiring parks, uniform planting of trees, zoning and other municipal beautification problems.

At the next meeting of the section, Miss Jane Thompson will give a talk on "Width and Arrangements of Streets," while at this meeting Mrs. Hutcherson will discuss "Parks." Mrs. Johnson "Schools," and Mrs. Yale "Libraries."

A very interesting session is anticipated. The date is Saturday, April 21, at the Women's club-house, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Girl of 15 Shoots Her Alleged Betrayer

CHICAGO, April 18.—Anna Daidone, 15, is being held for the grand jury for having shot and killed Frank Toronto, 40, who, she said, had betrayed her when she was 12. Cook county officials said the girl was the youngest ever held to the jury for such an offense.

BIBLE CLASS

The members of the Thursday Morning Bible class will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Dennis, who has conducted so successfully the Women's Bible class at the Presbyterian church for the past several months, will continue as leader until the first of June. Tomorrow the study of the New Testament will be started and a special treat is in store for all those who can attend. A cordial invitation is extended to all the ladies of Glendale and vicinity.

SPANISH VETERANS

Spanish War Veterans will meet tonight in Knights of Pythias hall at 105 West Park avenue to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the declaration of war with Spain.

EAGLE ROCK

Invite L. A. City Council To Convene With Trustees Of Eagle Rock On Monday

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES of Eagle Rock city have extended to the Los Angeles City Council an invitation to convene with them next Monday night, April 23, at the regular meeting of the board. If the Los Angeles "city fathers" accept, Eagle Rock will be very proud, indeed, to have them as guests, and it will give the big metropolis an opportunity to give its little brother the "once over."

The letter contained the following, in part: "It will be a great pleasure to the members of the Board of Trustees of Eagle Rock to have you present as the guests of the city on the evening of April 23, at 9 o'clock."

"We believe that, as the city officials of Los Angeles, of which Eagle Rock is soon to be an official part, it would be a pleasure to your new constituents to meet their future officials, and we are confident it will be equally gratifying to you to know what a really fine lot of people Eagle Rock has suddenly brought to Greater Los Angeles."

"Kindly inform us if the date we have fixed meets with your approval."

"Respectfully,"

"B. B. MARTSOLF,"

"City Clerk of Eagle Rock."

In the event the invitation is accepted, it is probable that the meeting at the city hall next Monday night will adjourn and meet at the Central school, in order to accommodate the people of Eagle Rock who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity to meet with the officials of Los Angeles. Further announcement will be made, following word from the Los Angeles City Council.

Realty Board Meets

At the banquet held by the Realty Board at the Eagle Rock cafe Tuesday noon, arrangements were made for the members of the board to attend the state realty convention at Long Beach next Saturday. With their special Eagle Rock badges and banners on display, the Eagle Rock realtors will leave the office of J. B. Brown, 117 South Central avenue at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning, motoring down to the Virginia hotel, where such speakers as Governor Friend Richardson and Speaker of the House Frank Merriam will be heard.

L. B. Black, prominent resident of Glendale, addressed members of the board at the banquet upon the points to be covered in putting a deal through escrow. Harry B. James, noted English monologist, of the James Phonograph Shoppe, Glendale, entertained with several humorous numbers.

Trolley Accident

The 2 o'clock car yesterday afternoon, on the Glendale & Montrose Railway Company's Eagle Rock line, met with grief. The workmen had been fixing the right-of-way, but they didn't watch where they threw the weeds and dirt, and consequently, before the motorman could check the onward trend of the car, it had run amuck in the dirt and weeds.

The passengers were delayed exactly an hour, according to their testimony, while the motorman progressed, as rapidly as his portly figure permitted, to the nearest house and got in touch with the trouble man. Then he communicated his troubles to the lady of the house, and after a chat for half an hour, returned, crying in triumph a pretty pink rose. By the time the rescuers had arrived, the workmen had succeeded in removing the necessary soil from the right-of-way, and the car proceeded without further mishap.

Musical Recital

The children of a number of prominent Eagle Rock families figured in the musical recital given Saturday at the beautiful home of Mrs. H. L. Terry, 257 Windermere avenue, under the direction of Miss Leora Johnstone, prominent music instructor of Eagle Rock.

Among those taking part were Howard Mann, who recently represented the Juvenile Musical club for the state, at a recital; and May Caldwell, who has won distinction in her accomplishment. Miss Johnstone's class includes both beginners and advanced students.

Those who took part in Saturday's recital were Lillian Clapp, Lois and Alice Chambers, Harriet Wisdom, Campbell and Neal Weatherall, Carroll Lowe, Dempster Dirks, Corinna Rise, Irene Proelss, De Lisle Cutts, Lois Hersom, Mary Jane Hutchins, Howard Mann, Maie Caldwell, Ruby Le Clerc. A large number of guests were present, and, following the recital, the children played games, and punch and wafers were served.

Peter H. Ducker, Jr., who reached the proud age of six weeks yesterday, is quite a boy, according to his mother, Mrs. Peter H. Ducker. Peter H. Ducker, Sr., has been head of the water board of Eagle Rock, and a member of the school board.

The Thursday Morning Musical club will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Miss Leora Johnstone, 157 North Central avenue. The study will be the life and compositions of Chopin. The club has been following the history of music, in its study, from the early ages, when the monochord was in use. The study of this year will include all musical works up to, but not including, the modern period.

Harry N. Squire, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Squire, of 226 North Highland avenue, has just closed a contract with the Lillian Burkhardt Company for a thirty weeks' tour as their stage manager. The company will start the tour immediately, making their first appearance next Monday night at San Diego.

Harry Squire, who has won some distinction in effecting successful stage scenes, was formerly with Grauman's and the Orpheum circuit. His new contract means

MONTROSE

WILL ESTABLISH P. O. AT MONTROSE

Conditions Governing Post Shown on Poster in Glendale Office

Montrose is to have a postoffice. The Montrose Chamber of Commerce, merchants and residents of "the up-country" all say so. Even Uncle Sam says so.

Agitation was commenced for a postoffice several months ago by the Montrose Chamber of Commerce. After a number of letters had been written on the subject, a communication was received from C. E. Craine, post-office inspector of the San Francisco Division, announcing that applications for the postmaster-ship will now be received by the postoffice department.

"Applicants must reside within the delivery of the office and should be citizens of the United States," states the notice which is posted in the Glendale Post Office. "They must be of legal age, able and willing to provide a convenient location for the office together with proper means for transacting the postal business and to give their personal attention to the management of the office."

"Two exact copies of the application, in the applicant's own handwriting, addressed to the first assistant postmaster general should be mailed to the undersigned in order that they may be included with his report to the post office department. Blank applications for this position are not furnished by the department and applications should use, in stead, ordinary correspondence paper."

"Applications should include statement of the candidate's qualifications, such as education, experience in the postal service or general business, proposed location of the postoffice and any other information as to the applicant's ability to supply post office quarters and properly transact the postal business."

Method of Payment

Compensation depends entirely upon receipts, according to George Hallett, assistant postmaster of the Glendale Post Office. He stated that the postmaster would be permitted to keep the first $100 a year. After this sum has been deducted, he will be permitted to retain 60 per cent of the next $100, 50 per cent of the next $200 and 40 per cent of the next $700.

If the postoffice does a business of $800 a year, according to Mr. Hallett, the postmaster's compensation will be $420 per annum. He stated that the only satisfactory method of handling the position would be in connection with a mercantile establishment.

C. A. Haskins, vice-president of the Montrose State Bank, is taking an active interest in the establishment of the Montrose postoffice.

The necessity of having a postoffice located at Montrose was emphasized recently by F. B. Turner, member of the realty firm of Turner & Carson.

"There are getting to be numerous business houses around here who desire to get their mail quicker and more direct," he remarked. "At the present time, there is no drug store here where stamps can be purchased and it is necessary to go to Glendale for them. The Montrose Pharmacy, which is now under construction, undoubtedly will carry stamps to accommodate its customers but it seems only fair that whoever handles them here should receive some slight compensation."

Another resident of Montrose, who is taking an active interest in the new proposed postoffice is Mrs. T. G. Leach of 525 Orange-ale avenue. But, as far as this is concerned, every resident of the district is interested in the subject.

Sell Business Site

Turner & Carson, Montrose realtors, report the sale of the southwest corner of Honolulu and Pennsylvania, avenue to George W. Waddey who formerly operated the Montrose Garage. The property has a width of 86 feet in front and 132 feet in the rear and a depth of 181 feet.

Mr. Waddey is understood to be making plans for the construction of a home upon the rear of the lot and a filling station for the corner.

Theodore Bellanger Monday afternoon signed a contract with the Western Dry Cleaning Company for the installation of $4150 worth of gumwood fixtures in the new Montrose Pharmacy. The foundation for this new building, which will be located on the northwest corner of Honolulu and Montrose avenues, is now in and construction upon the superstructure will be commenced within a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Bellanger and son, Joseph Bellanger, of Sparr Heights made a business trip yesterday to Long Beach.

Oklahoma People to Picnic Next Saturday

Oklahoma Day comes this Saturday, April 21, and all former residents of that state are cordially invited to attend the big, homey reunion that will be held in Bixby park, Long Beach.

Hon. Hilton Bryan will preside and will offer a fine program. It is understood. The usual county registers, badges and hot coffee will be supplied. Picnickers will bring their own basket dinners.

As Saturday will commemorate what is known as Oklahoma Day back home, it is felt that all should join in making it a great popular occasion.

BRYAN IN FAVOR OF WORLD COURT

Commoner Takes Issue With Wilson Over Harding Proposals

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service
Copyright, 1923, International News
WASHINGTON, April 18.—

Signs of division of opinion in Democratic ranks over the world court proposal began to make their appearance today to offset the marked splits that have been apparent in Republican circles.

William Jennings Bryan, three time candidate for the presidency, and still the spokesman for a considerable element of the Democratic party, revealed himself as wholeheartedly in favor of President Harding's program, even though Woodrow Wilson has announced his disapproval of the "conditional" adherence to the court. Mr. Wilson characterized Mr. Harding's plan as not "in keeping" with the candor and courage of the United States but this fact did not deter the commoner from asserting it had his approval.

Furthermore, Colonel Bryan ventured the prediction, when asked for an expression of his views by International News Service, that President Harding's proposal will command the "almost solid" support of Democratic senators.

"I am very much in favor of the international court of justice," said Mr. Bryan. "I believe the United States will be benefited by it."

"I believe in President Harding's plan, as announced, namely that we shall become a member of the court and participate in the election of judges, but shall reserve the right to decide for ourselves at the time the pact we will take, if any, in enforcing the court's decisions."

"That condition should always accompany our actions when we affiliate with other nations. We certainly cannot afford to allow any tribunal to suspend the constitutional right of congress to declare war."

"So long as we reserve the right of independent action we can safely join other national in investigating international questions. I even think we should go beyond the court and have representatives on some tribunal—whether the League of Nations or an association of nations is immaterial—where we could join in investigating disputes which are not subjects of arbitration."

GROWTH REVEALS POWER OF SPIRIT

New Thought Center to Hold Regular Services in Club House

Beginning Sunday morning, May 6, at 10 o'clock, the New Thought Center will hold services regularly in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon club house, thus realizing an ideal, states Hannah Lucella Hukill, M. D., one of the active workers in this organization.

"That humanity's anticipation is always smaller than the Divine realization will at that time be made manifest," Dr. Hukill states. "This wide-awake organization dates its birth in Glendale to early in the year 1916, when six or eight earnest workers gathered together to establish a nucleus. That the power of the Spirit was with them, as promised, when two or three are met together, has been proven by the tenacity of the group, although they never attracted great crowds.

"The classes, rather than the masses, are the ones interested in the higher lines of thought—those who have outgrown the orthodox creeds and dogmas of the orthodox and are hungry for truth as Christ taught it, are the ones who have been attracted and gathered in the ever-widening circle of influence.

"To Harold Palmer belongs the credit of organizing this infant mission for the seekers of Light. Then came Henry Harrison Brown, a former clergyman, with his teachings of self-mastery, through suggestion and auto-suggestion, which were very helpful to many of the Truth seekers.

Faithful Workers

"Other faithful and spiritually-minded workers who gave their time and service were Mrs. Ida Mansfield Wilson, Adeline Becker, Dr. Sulia Seton, Rev. Henry Victor Morgan, Dr. Frederick Keeler and Dr. Frank Riley. The early part of last January Dr. Riley was suddenly called to other fields of action, after serving the Center for six years. Since his departure Dr. A. U. Fareed of Los Angeles, a Persian scholar of wide experience and deep spirituality, has occupied the platform most satisfactorily.

"Mrs. J. C. Dennerlin of North Glendale was the first president of the organization and served faithfully three years. C. C. Carmack of Central avenue gave excellent service as treasurer for over six years. Other ever-willing and faithful workers were Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon, 293 North Maryland avenue. Mrs. Beamon and Mrs. Carmack had charge of the Sunday school at different times after its formation.

"It is to the idealists of those early workers that we owe our present good fortune—it was the building of their vision into form which has brought us into our new and beautiful surroundings.

HOME OF BEAUTY OPENS TOMORROW

Modern Treatments Will Be Given in New Shop on North Brand Blvd.

When the Palace Grand Beauty Shoppe opens on Thursday, April 19, the women of Glendale will be offered a thoroughly modern, efficient, finely appointed and equipped hair-dressing and manicuring establishment consisting of nine large, up-to-date booths, with the service of the most skilled and experienced operators, states Mrs. C. Salisbury, manager.

Mrs. Salisbury will be assisted by Miss Helene Woodford, who is well-known locally for her experience in this line of work.

The Shoppe is on the second floor of the Palace Grand arcade, 133 North Brand boulevard. The most modern and effective treatments are being featured, it is announced, and only the very newest and best appliances are in use. Mrs. Salisbury, under whose personal supervision all work is done, says that the Shoppe will make a specialty of the new "radium" facial treatments, said to be wonderfully effective in removing blemishes and making the skin soft and velvety and rejuvenated.

Stock is Varied

"We have a large assortment of hair goods on display," Mrs. Salisbury says, "together with a fine line of combs, novelty jewelry, genuine jade, a variety of amber articles, the Princess line of toilet preparations and cosmetics, and many other pleasing feminine things.

"Thoroughly experienced operators are in charge of permanent waving, marcel waving, water waving, hairdressing, shampooing and manicuring, all work guaranteed."

"To those who do not prefer to know just how smart and efficient a shop of this sort can be," Mrs. Salisbury says, "a visit to the Palace Grand Beauty Shoppe will be a revelation."

ROB DRUG STORE

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Entering the Kress drug store at Hollywood boulevard and Vine street, Hollywood, as the place was being closed, two armed and unmasked bandits held up P. C. Swasey, the manager, and George Carrigan, a clerk, and looted the cash register of $350 in cash and made their escape in an automobile.

An experienced husband is one who can read the sporting page while appearing politely interested in what his wife is saying.

of the Tuesday Afternoon club house.

"Sunday morning, May 6, at 10 o'clock, will be the first service in the new quarters. A cordial invitation is extended to all visitors to attend the services regularly."

EIGHT LOTS ARE OPEN TO BUYERS

Suburban Heights Property
Offered at Original
Terms for Sale

"Eight more especially desirable Suburban Heights homesites, such as those snapped up in last Saturday's record-breaking sale, are on the market today," says Alfred R. Johnson, of the Suburban Realty Company, who are handling the tract.

"Last Saturday's sale completely cleaned us out of Unit No. 1, and it is only by a piece of rare good fortune that we have been able to secure a few more lots from a buyer of a big parcel, thereby enabling us to satisfy some of the many who came too late and were disappointed.

"These eight lots are ours because one party last week bought a little heavier than he could carry," explains Mr. Johnson, "and we are now offering them in accordance with our ideas of fairness to the buying public. Last Saturday we announced that our sale would take place at 2 o'clock and that no sales would be made before that time. We faithfully carried out our program, and every one of the early arrivals made purchases that were entirely to their satisfaction and will, in our opinion, make them an especially nice profit within the next twelve months or even less. Now that we have a few of these 'sold' lots at our fingertips, it is not our policy to keep them for a higher price, or even pass them on to our friends. Our principle is a square deal for all, and the fact that we are in the fortunate position of being able to pick up these lots and offer them to the public again, does not, in our opinion, give us the right to make profit on something that in all rights should belong to some prospective purchaser who came too late to secure a homesite.

"These few choice lots will, therefore, be sold just the same as if the whole deal were consummated last week. The same low prices, $80 cash and $27.50 a month, will be the terms upon which the balance of these valuable scenic homesites that are available in this valuable Unit No. 1 will be sold."

FACES BIG FINE

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—V. A. Johnston today faced payment of a $200 fine or the alternative of six months in the city jail for failure to stop and render aid after a collision with another machine, owned and driven by Sydney Rule. Johnston crashed into the other automobile at the intersection of Temple street and Broadway, tried to escape, and was chased to Temple and Caron streets before he was captured, according to the testimony of police officers in Police Judge Richardson's court, where Johnston was sentenced.

O, MR. GALLAGHER! WELL, MR. SHEAN?

What Did Judge Lowe Hand
To You? Thirty Days
Or $30 Bail?

Jingles continue to ting-a-ling in to the Contest Editor of the Community Players' parody contest, being held in connection with the forthcoming "Fun Revue," to be given in the Tuesday Afternoon Club auditorium, Thursday and Friday nights of this week.

Some of the jingles jangle, others come from the jungles and still others from the arctic regions, so to speak, the following being three specimens from late contestants:

Oh, Mr. Gallagher, oh, Mr. Gallagher, You visited in Glendale from New York,
From that land of ice and snow,
Where the population go
Around the streets in snowshoes as they walk.

Oh, Mr. Shean! oh, Mr. Shean! I went back and—let me tell you what I mean—
I shall never go away.
I am simply fixed to stay.
In New York, Mr. Gallagher? No, in Glendale, Mr. Shean.

Oh, Mr. Gallagher, oh, Mr. Gallagher, What will our mayor think of this Revue?
Will our efforts be forgotten?
Will he think our performance rotten?
Now tell me how it all appears to you.

Oh, Mr. Shean! oh, Mr. Shean! I really fear to contemplate his mien.
When he sees our acting first,
I feel certain he will burst—
Into anger, Mr. Gallagher? No, into singing, Mr. Shean.

Oh, Mr. Gallagher, oh, Mr. Gallagher, Once I think I saw you going into jail.
Tell me now, is this all true?
What did Judge Lowe hand to you?
Was it thirty days, or thirty dollars bail?

Oh, Mr. Shean! oh, Mr. Shean! Do you think our sweet Fatootie so very mean?
No—I don't agree with you,
'Cause I have been there, too.
Absolutely, Mr. Gallagher? Positively, Mr. Shean.

Oh, Mr. Gallagher! oh, Mr. Gallagher, I thought I saw you telephone your girl.
With a big click, and a buss—
Then you sure found where she was,
And the conversation went on with a whirr.

Oh, Mr. Shean! oh, Mr. Shean! You don't know our sweet Fatootie from a bean!
That sweet voice came from my wife.
Now, do you think she'll take my positively, Mr. Gallagher—
Absolutely, Mr. Shean.

Oh, Mr. Gallagher! oh, Mr. Gallagher, Did you know just how the people like to vote?
With a smile of happiness,
They all ran and voted "Yes,"
And they said, "Dear Legion Boys, come and take our goat."

Oh, Mr. Shean! oh, Mr. Shean! Such kind hearted, loyal friends I've never seen—
They're the cause of Glendale's fame,
And we know them all by name—
Positively, Mr. Gallagher—
Absolutely, Mr. Shean!

—Clarence L. Edwards.

The judges for the Parody contest, which is being conducted by the Glendale Community Players, are R. E. Tucker, director of the Community Service organization, and D. Ripley Jackson.

The parodies will be sung and prizes awarded at the Fun Revue on Thursday and Friday nights of this week. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones will present two of the prizes Friday night.

Lots of Harmony
The music for the Fun Revue, to be presented Thursday and Friday nights of this week, April 19 and 20, at the Tuesday Afternoon club house, by the Glendale Community Players, for the benefit of the American Legion Building fund, will be furnished by a very fine orchestra of volunteer professionals and semi-professionals, as follows: Pianist, Ethel Wilson; violins, Evangeline Quackenbush and Bob Sherrick; Saxophone, Dr. V. P. Ervin; trombone, Kenneth Lee; trumpet and cornet, Weldon Hanson and Ivan Dow, and drums, Arthur Kressy.

Everyone will want to see the Fun Revue, a sparkling musical comedy full of lots of wholesome fun and frolic, with charming costumes, tuneful songs, attractive dances and specialty features. Part one of the comedy is "Circus Day," part two is "A Little Bit of Everything," and part three "The Wedding Day."

The director, Nanno Woods, has worked day and night for the past three months on this production, and Miss Dorothy Woods has been untiring in her efforts in instructing the dancing. There are almost forty persons in the cast and every one a live wire. The solo singers, Evelyn West, Almene Bullock, Dorothy Norton, Frank Booth, Frank Butterfield and Soldier Caruso, present an array of talent hard to beat. Comedy characters presented by Steven Huntington, A. E. McCoubrey, Maurice Widows, Hubert Woods, Clarence Edwards and Dr. John Tunison, will surely chase Old Man Gloom away. The Revue will begin promptly each night at 8:15 o'clock and will last for two hours. Get your tickets now, for they are going fast, says the committee.

Deadlock Feared in Dancer's Death Jury
SAN DIEGO, April 18.—With indications that they were badly split in their opinions, the jury of eleven men and one woman who heard the evidence against Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, Camp Kearny army physician, charged with the murder of Fritz Mann, popular young dancer, resumed deliberations today after having been locked up for a night's rest. The jury had been out 24 hours at 11 a. m. today.

There are approximately 60,000 clubwomen in the state of Pennsylvania.

An Old Machine
TODAY'S SHORT STORY
By Ad Schuster

Dan Carney had been walking aimlessly about the East Side. It was his custom to start out without object and, when he was tired, to take a car back home. The time had arrived. He stood on a corner leaning against a small building, half store and half house. His arm rested on a box, a slot machine, and idly he gave it an inspection.

The thing was crudely built, a square box of rough wood. On its face were five slots and below each a card setting forth what would be exchanged for a coin. Dan had never seen one like this, for it offered: "10-cent cigar," "5-cent cigar," "Bunch gum," "1 stick gum" and "Bar of chocolate."

The lad put a nickel in the last-named slot. From the box came a grinding noise—a click and the clang of a bell. Then the chocolate slid out. He tried it again on the 10-cent cigar and the operation was repeated.

The business instinct in Dan Carney was aroused. This machine for all its appearance, was certain and because of the variety of its offerings, unusual.

"There had been no cranks to pull, no levers or buttons. Now, if a fellow had a little money he might hunt out the man who made the box and go into business on a large scale. Dan decided he would go back and find the owner."

"Do you own that slot machine outside?" Dan asked the question of the woman proprietor of the little store.

"No, I don't," she answered. "But if you think that the fellow who does hasn't a license, you're on the wrong foot. More than one smart fellow has asked the same." She pointed to a card on the wall. "There is the license. I keep it there for tellers like you."

Dan read the paper. "And where can I find Carlos Bording?" he inquired, reading the name.

"Might find him by hanging around waiting for him to get his money, and again you might not. Funny fellow, Bording, never see him myself. Must sneak around at night to empty his machine. Did you wish to buy something?" Dan was dismissed.

It was a month later, when he had all but forgotten the machine, that Dan passed the place in a street car and looked out the window to see the woman of the store, dropping a coin in the box. In a few minutes he was walking back past the place.

"There is something queer about this," he said to himself, and while he tried to figure it out he examined the box once more. Once he stooped down to look into the aperture from which the cigars and gum came, but the mechanism was not in sight. Then he sniffed and grinned.

Dan walked into the store again. This time he was all assurance. "Do you know anything of the law regarding tobacco licenses and slot machine licenses? Are you certain your machine is not violating the statute?"

"Do I know you are not a smarty? Was I born yesterday?" The woman mimicked him, but her face was flushed. "Besides I told you I don't own the thing."

"Just the same," Dan made his voice impressive. "I am going to go into that other room, or I will tear the machine from the wall. Now, listen, I don't mean any harm. If you let me go in I won't make any trouble."

"Snoopy?" she asked. "Just snoopy. Well, I guess I'll have to take the chance." She went to the door, then stopped. "Don't disturb him. Cheer him up if you can."

In the room was an old man, crippled and confined to his chair. He sat reading a book and smoking a pipe, oblivious to his visitor. Sometimes he chuckled at what he read, and again he swore. Dan looked to the woman for an explanation. She was gone.

Into one of five cups which stood on a shelf against the wall a coin dropped. The old man picked up the cup. He was all eagerness now, and trembled with excitement.

"Number Four," he said softly, "that means a bunch of gum." Then he turned a coffee grinder set in the wall, banged on a bell and dropped the gum in a hole which was covered with a square of burp. The old man held up a five-cent piece and his eyes sparkled with delight. "That makes six today," he crowed. "Business is pretty good, pretty good. Old Carlos is not too old to make his living. Mary will tell you that." He was still talking to himself when Dan left.

"Well?" The woman put the question as Dan stepped in the store.

"It is my intention," Dan replied, "to drop a coin in that box every time I pass this way and to advise my friends to do the same." And he held out his hand.

"Tell me, mister," the surprised woman asked, "how you came to succeed?"

When I tried to look inside the machine," he had answered, "I smelled smoke, fresh from a pipe."

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

My Dear Followers:
When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to give you individual advice. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me, and regret it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget to enclose a s. a. s. e. if you ask for an article, and allow at least two weeks' time for it to reach you.

L. M.—We have recently had an article on neuritis. You may have it by sending a s. a. s. e.

M. M.—If you will send a s. a. s. e. we will give you the names of some books on tuberculosis that are written for the layman.

Mrs. S.—You say you are 23 years old and feel 50; are 40 remember to keep it out of the way of children and pets.

Bride-to-Be: "Please tell me what kind of edge to crochet on a white dressing table scarf—or whether you think lace would look better."

Answer: Why not wait till next Wednesday before deciding about the scarf? On that date I will publish in this column directions for making "the very latest thing" in bureau and dressing table covers. I believe you will prefer one of the new, find when you read about them.

BEAUTY CHATS

EDNA KENT FORBES

REJUVENATING THE NECK

Don't let your neck grow old. It's not so easy to keep it young as the years creep past you, but it's a lot easier than keeping the face young, and it's quite as worth while. For the neck shows age so plainly—you couldn't seem youthful with even the smoothest and most unlined face, if your neck were creased and wrinkled.

Now as to methods. The first thing is to feed the skin with something highly nourishing.

Fortunately you can use the most fattening of all cosmetics on the neck—cocoa butter. You can't use this on the face unless you have a most unusual skin indeed, for it is heavy and tends to grow hairs around the mouth. Of course there's no danger of superfluous hair on the neck, and the skin is not so sensitive, so use all the warm cocoa butter you can possibly massage into your neck.

Warm it until it rubs in easily, and before you massage, wash the neck with hot water and soap, scrubbing the skin with a little complexion brush to stimulate the blood and open and cleanse the pores. Wipe quickly and while the skin is hot and the pores still open, rub on the cocoa butter.

Massage well, using a circular motion of the fingers and getting the warm oil well into the skin. Then bind up the neck comfortably with strips of old linen or muslin. This holds in the cream and also saves the clothing. Of course this treatment should be given at night, then the neck has hours and hours to absorb the cocoa butter. In the morning, wash off and give the neck an ice rub. Or spray with toilet vinegar.

H. M.—The tar that is used on the scalp may be bought either at the drug stores or the places where paints and oils are sold.

A Reader—I do not think there would be any special value in using an egg yolk on the skin. I wonder if you are not confusing this with a scalp treatment, as the yolk of egg, or even a whole egg, rubbed into the scalp and allowed to dry before a shampoo is beneficial. This is especially helpful when there is dandruff, as all the particles cling to the egg and will be removed during the shampoo. Betty—You probably continue to make these lines which accounts for your trouble in getting rid of them. Change your position while asleep, such as using no pillow or a smaller one, and see if that will not help.

Totecka—You would look fuller in the face if you avoided a part in the hair over the top of the head.

THE MARRIED FLIRT

A Letter Friend objects to the alley of flirtation with married men.

Here is that part of her letter: Beware Her Contempt

"The girls of today are pretty wide-awake and observant, and it may be that the stenographer sees the wrinkles in the loose, coarse skin, the lack-lustre eyes with huge puffs beneath, the false teeth, the thinning, whitening hair, the lack of elasticity in the movements of the middle-aged, despicable thing called a married male flirt whose attention she has been unfortunate enough to attract."

"She contrasts him with the boys of her own age and laughs behind his back (we all do it) at the efforts of the poor old thing to act like a young fellow in his twenties."

"The other day a girl drew my attention to a man on the street and said, with the utmost contempt in her voice, 'He is a married man and he runs after girls.' Most girls think that to accept attentions from and to be seen around in the company of a married man compromises and cheapens a girl and causes her to lose her chances with the boys who don't like articles from the 'soiled goods counter.'"

Rather a vivid and interesting picture of the point of view held by some of the younger generation.

And one which might well give pause to any married man with tendencies to finding affinities in his office force.

For many a man who might forgive himself for being a bit of a devil would find it considerably harder to forgive himself for having been ridiculous.

PLAY ADVOCATED IN PROCLAMATION

Mayor Robinson Urges
Folks to Enter Into Spirit
Of Play Week

The following proclamation is issued by Mayor Spencer Robinson, of the City of Glendale, in connection with National Play Week, April 22 to 28, inclusive:

"We stop playing not because we grow old; we grow old because we stop playing."

"America is to recognize this fundamental instinct that urges old and young to play. As Mayor of Glendale, I wish to give local impetus to this movement by proclaiming the week of April 22nd to 28th as Play Week, and requesting the merchants to close their places of business for one hour from 3 to 4 o'clock on Friday, the 27th, during the boys' parade."

"During Play Week, I trust that all people and organizations of Glendale will co-operate with Community Service in a program of play. Play with your neighbor and girl; play with your neighbors. Let's make each meeting of the week an occasion for play."

"SPENCER ROBINSON,
Mayor of Glendale."

Hollywood to Sing

As Wednesday night, April 25, is the occasion of the regular weekly "Community Sing," conducted by the music committee of Hollywood's Community Service organization, Mrs. J. J. Carter, president of their Community Chorus, has consented to take charge of the program in the Glendale Union High school auditorium, that night, April 25.

This is to be "Hollywood Night" and soloists, orchestra numbers and all features of the program, including the director of Community singing, will be provided by Hollywood. The meeting is open to the general public and Glendale is invited to come out and hear this free program, which is the beginning of an exchange of musical talent between the different communities surrounding Glendale. It is planned at a later date for Glendale to go over to Hollywood and put on a program there, at their regular community sing.

The Music Committee met last evening and discussed plans for several industrial sing-groups in some of the larger establishments here in Glendale. The postal employees are already working out plans for a weekly sing, to be held for a few minutes during the day, in the postoffice.

Music committee members present last night were: A. L. Baird, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell and Mrs. W. A. Kulp.

The paper "bombs" showered from the sky Monday afternoon by an aeroplane that hovered over Glendale were the first "shot out of the gun" for the forthcoming Carnival of Nations, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, which opened last night at the K. of C. auditorium, 612 South Flower street, Los Angeles, and is to run for five days.

Fifty ticket books, good for $5 each at the Carnival, were dropped from the sky, by Frank J. Sullivan, along with 500,000 advertising handbills, the aeroplane being owned and piloted by Jimmy Murphy.

The Knights of Columbus committee in charge of the carnival is comprised of: Frank J. Sullivan, chairman; James Hughes, secretary; Philip O'Brien, treasurer; and W. H. Campbell, John T. Curtin, W. L. Fitzpatrick, Elmer D. Krug, A. J. Vaughan; Jack Oberier, Walter Paul, William Ahern, J. Walter Chune, J. H. Anderson, W. H. Termath, Nick Fries, Joe Brady, Lawrence McDonald, Frank Hines and Leo M. ## Five Killed in Crash, Father May Succumb

LOS GATOS, Cal., April 18.—Little hope was held out today for the recovery of Pietro Ceroni, 32, the sole survivor of a family of six wiped out late last night when their automobile was hit at a grade crossing two miles east of here by an interurban street car on the Peninsula Electric Railway. He has a fractured skull, several broken ribs and internal injuries.

Mrs. Christina Ceroni, 30; Joseph, 14; Tony, 8; Pietro, Jr., 6, and Carmen, 11 months, were either killed instantly or died within a short time without recovering consciousness.

The family was returning to their Los Gatos home from San Jose when their car was struck. The street car was traveling at terrific speed, reports said, and carried the wreckage of the car several hundred feet. The bodies of the victims were hurled right and left. Two were not found for some time after the accident, being hidden in deep grass.

Identification was difficult and it was not until hours after the accident that the name of the family was ascertained.

Sabine rivers continued to rise today in what promised to be the worst flood in the history of the southeastern part of Texas.

More than 100 homes here are under water, shipping partially halted, and damage already is estimated at thousands of dollars. No signs of the crest are in sight.

COMMENT That's All

Smile In Tragedy's Face
Dancing Contest Foolish
Collecting Collections?
Glendale's New Depot

By Gil A. Cowan

TEN children burned to death in a Buddhist school in Sacramento early Monday morning. Rather, they were suffocated in the inferno which swept the four-story wooden fire trap in which they were locked.

The writer of this column arrived on the scene of the fire fifteen minutes after it was discovered, saw the teachers pulled out of the blazing building, still screaming for their charges.

It was an awesome sight, a horrible ordeal, but on every side there seemed to be nothing but bland smiles of orientals who were unperturbed by the loss of ten or more of the yellow race.

How calmly the Japanese accepted fate! It was suicide for them to try to further effect rescue, as they seemingly enjoyed the spectacle of their old Buddha temple and the mission school flaming skyward in defiance to the heavens.

Few of the onlookers realized the tragedy which was occurring. They, too, were hypnotized by the dragon fire and the spray from the countless fire hose playing upon the flames. And how difficult it was to get any satisfactory information from the celestials as to how many had perished.

There were eighty students attending the school, yes. There were thirty from out of town who lived in the building, yes. There were fifteen or more saved, yes. They were six to sixteen years old, yes. There were at least ten in the burning building, yes.

Ye gods, but it took a third degree to get enough information to dispatch to the newspapers. And all the while the writer could not help but wonder at the smiling countenances of those interviewed.

Perhaps they are taught to meet death with a smile and they were only practicing. Who knows?

New records are seemingly being set daily by endurance dancers. Of all the foot contests the dancing stunt seems to be the limit of endurance. At the same time it may be well that these stepping stools get it out of their system.

One of the contestants in a southern city is reported to have gone crazy. We would comment that "he went" before he started.

Stanford museum robbed of $100,000 in relics, according to the dispatches yesterday. Wonder what the big idea is, anyway?

A thief ought to have better sense than to collect curios which others have spent a life time in collecting.

Glendale is to have two half-million-dollar hotels, one at Brand boulevard and California street, and the other at Broadway and Glendale avenue, according to announcements recently.

Glendale needs both of these hostleries—and another million-dollar hotel besides.

The hotel business in Glendale will be no gamble.

It is a real investment.

Incidentally, Glendale should leave no stone unturned to get a Southern Pacific passenger station and grounds worth not less than $200,000 when fully developed.

Also, the Southern Pacific should build a unit plan station which will handle the increase in travel to this point, for, logically, Glendale is the center for Pasadena, Hollywood, Eagle Rock and other contiguous cities in the matter of transportation north.

If you will only glance at a map of greater Los Angeles for a moment, you will find Glendale to be the most accessible of all close-in suburbs. And the new Pacific Electric subway will make it even more so, not to forget Riverside drive and a few other thoroughfares for motor traffic yet to be developed.

SEEK DISCARDED SCOUT UNIFORMS

Near East Orphans Will Be Clothed and Formed
Into Troops

A drive is on by the Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills district to round up all outgrown, shrunk, faded or otherwise discarded uniforms, for their brother Scouts in the Near East who are orphans.

According to word just received from James E. West, chief scout, there are some 15,000 orphans who are of scout age, and an attempt is being made to help in the orderly management of this enterprise by having the boys of Scout age organized somewhat as they are in this country, thus developing leadership and a greater sense of responsibility upon the part of these boys who may be the future leaders of their respective people.

Scout Executive Harold Benner has sent out a letter to every Scoutmaster in the district, asking them to co-operate in helping out this big project over nationally.

All boys who have been Scouts or who are now members are urged to take their old uniforms to the next troop meeting and there make up a bundle to forward to the Near East committee. In addition to discarded uniforms athletic equipment can be used to good advantage, it is stated.

CARE OF STOVES TOLD BY EXPERT

Proper Treatment of Range
Lengthens Life and Cuts Gas Bills

"Gas ranges are rather like human beings," says John A. Dignan, campaign director for Gas Stove and Water Heater week, April 16 to 21. "Treat them kindly and they respond by doing more for you. Not only that, but it lengthens their lives. Many a good range has had its days of usefulness cut right in two by neglect."

"Treating it kindly does not mean letting it lie idle. Laziness is just as bad for stoves as it is for folks, and the busy stove is the well-behaved one."

"The first and most important requisite for a well-behaved stove is cleanliness. Because gas is such a clean fuel, sometimes the housewife overlooks the fact that food particles and dust have access to the burners and will work havoc unless removed. A stiff-bristled brush kept for the purpose, keeps the top of the burners free from dirt, and may be used for cleaning all the corners and places which are hard to reach."

"To clean the inside of the burners, a most necessary procedure, boil them in a solution of ordinary washing soda. This removes the dust and grease in the throat of the burners, which interferes with the proper flow of gas and air. Rinse the burners well, to remove the soda and dry at once to prevent rusting."

Yellow Flame Wasteful

"A yellow flame is always a dirty, smoky one; but worse than that, it is a wasteful one, for it does not give the heat that the clean blue flame does, while burning the same amount of gas. This yellow flame is sometimes the result of a dirty burner, which the above treatment will remedy, and sometimes it is the result of lack of air. In the latter case, give the flame more air by opening the shutter of the air-mixer at the front of the burner. This air-mixer is really the carburetor of the range, and many high gas bills may be laid directly to its improper adjustment."

"With the oven, it is indeed true that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Rusted-out ovens can be relined, but it is so much easier to keep them from rusting out. Though most good ranges have oven linings of rust-resisting metal, proper care adds years to their service."

"The moisture given off as gas burns, the water which evaporates from all foods during baking, are the rust-makers. To combat them, first, when lighting the oven let the door remain open for a minute or two after the match has been applied to the flame. This prevents the moisture in the first rush of warmed air from condensing on the cold oven walls."

"Second, always cool the oven with the door open. Usually the food remains in the oven for a short time after the gas has been turned out, still cooking with the heat retained in the oven, but as soon as the food is removed, the door should be open to permit the circulation of fresh air to dry it out. As a final precaution, rub the oven walls occasionally with a bit of sweet oil, preferably salad or frying oil. This treatment helps to remove rust already formed, and gives protection as well."

DEALS IN HUMANS

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 18.—Sheriff J. R. He took them from Tallahassee to Perry, a distance of sixty miles. He said he netted $15 on each convict leased to this company.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

Business Conditions Better, Reports Show

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Prosperity is marching forward and business conditions are steadily getting better, Secretary of Labor Davis announced here today.

He based his observations on reports to the department of labor from 5,453 manufacturing establishments for March, showing an increase of 2.1 per cent in number of men employed, 5 per cent increase in total wages, and 2.8 per cent increase in average weekly earnings.

A REAL SERVICE TO THE PUBLIC

Liberal Policy Is Appreciated by Automobile Owners

It is usually thought that big corporations are greedy and try to get all the profit they possibly can by advancing prices at every opportunity, but a pleasant surprise has been enjoyed this spring by those who bought Auto tires from the Western Auto Supply Co.

Although nearly all tire concerns have made two price advances recently, this company is still selling its tires at 1922 prices and has announced that it is able to do so because of having bought, before the advance, about 60 carloads of tires.

A service of this kind is something that motorists will not soon forget. It is anticipated that all the tires that are to be sold at 1922 prices will be moved quickly through the 45 stores operated by this company in the West.

Auto Supply Headquarters

No matter what make of car you have, the "Western Auto" Stores can supply you with the necessary equipment and supplies, the finest quality obtainable, at worth-while savings. Handling such great quantities for so many stores enables us to buy for less and sell lower.

Wizard Storage Batteries

One of the most important parts of a car is the battery—and naturally when a battery is needed the motorist wants one that will give the best of service. Every Wizard Battery is thoroughly inspected and charged before it is sold, and is a dependable battery for every purpose. Why pay more than our price? Get one now.

WESTERN GIANT and PHARIS ROADGRIPPER Cord Tires

The "Western Giant" is exactly what its name implies—it is extra thick, has a high flat tread; tapered shoulders for strength; long staple cotton, stretch-proof beads, suction cups to prevent skidding—all these are outstanding points that make what we believe to be the best tire produced by any factory at any price. Although our guarantee is for 12,000 miles, we have just stacks of letters on file at our main office telling us of "Western Giants" that have gone much farther—some to 18,000 miles.

The "Pharis Roadgripper" is a Standard Quality Cord tire—it is full weight and of the highest grade construction throughout—guaranteed 10,000 miles (except 30x3 1/2, which is 9000 miles). The fact that we have handled "Pharis" tires since 1914 and during that time our business has grown from one store to over 65 stores, should be proof to you that our offer of high quality tires at low prices is genuine—we advise you to note the prices in the shield above, carefully—and get a set of "Western Giants" or "Pharis Roadgrippers" now.

Fabric Tires

Thousands of customers come back to us year after year for more fabric tires because they get good service. We handle three grades: The Western Giant, which is the finest material and workmanship procurable, guaranteed 8000 miles; the Pharis, which is standard quality, full size and weight and our "old standby" since 1914, guaranteed 7000 miles; also the Nebraska, a really good, serviceable tire at an extremely low price, guaranteed 6000 miles.

Daily NewsLetter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

TODAY—"New born" and untied plays, charging the same prices as admitted successes, are straggling attendance at theatres, where legitimate plays are offered, concludes Chester B. Bahn, Syracuse correspondent.

TOMORROW—Lower railroad rates and freedom of these utilities from so much governmental control would improve economic conditions in England, according to statistics collected by David M. Church.

By CHESTER B. BAHN
For International News Service

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 18.—It is the epidemic of new-born plays which, while still in their dramatic swaddling clothes, are offered to the theatre-going public at box office scales prevailing for acknowledged successes that is responsible for diminishing attendance at the legitimate playhouses of the land.

So believes Madame Olga Petrova, recently with us at the Wieting in her own drama, "Hurricane," the second to come from the pen of this remarkable Polish-Englishwoman.

A playwright and a star as well, Madame Petrova has enjoyed an exceptional opportunity to study the disease that threatens to cause dry rot in the field of legitimate drama in the smaller cities of the country.

Her diagnosis is given in the voice of authority and deserves from the booking magnates serious and respectable consideration. Certainly the evil she names exists. There can be no denial that the legitimate patronage in Syracuse and cities of its class has badly slumped.

And Madame Petrova's affirmation that it has been the new plays that have suffered principally is equally true. The majority of the plays coming here with established reputations have played to fair business, fair at least for Syracuse, where vaudeville and the movies hold sway so effectively.

"I believe it is entirely wrong to ask the theatre-goers of a city to pay $2 or $2.50 for a play that, newly-born, is still in the try-out age," Madame Petrova told us, as she awaited her cue at the Wieting on the last day of her Syracuse engagement. "It is unfair to the playhouse patrons. It is unfair to the play."

"The first two weeks of a drama's existence is a critical time. It is being moulded into the perfect piece that it is intended to become. It is essential that it have a wide hearing. The reaction of the audience must be studied and interpreted. But unfortunately, under the present system of charging the price of a success for an unproven dramatic article the audience are slim. It is ample evidence, it seems to me, that the cure rests in the reduction of prices for the new-born pieces."

And, with the courage of her convictions, Madame Petrova expressed the opinion that it would have been far better to have followed that plan for her own "Hurricane" during its Syracuse engagement. Syracuse, by the way, was the drama's second week. It had had its premier at Montreal.

The Petrova play was one of the finest dramatic treats of the Syracuse season. But the vast majority of theatre-goers knew it was a new play, and they refused to take a chance—at $2.50.

Which was in this instance their misfortune.

Syracuse this season has been asked to patronize more new plays than old. Mrs. Minnie Madern Fiske gave us "Paddy." Porter Emerson Browne brought "Ladies for Sale." Nance O'Neill supplies "Field of Ermine." And I only made a few of the dramatic attractions; as, for the musical shows, nearly every one was so new the producers were traveling with the production.

True, there were "names" in the casts. But, today, as 600 years ago, "the play's the thing." Time was when the smaller cities would turn out en masse for a "first night." Syracuse was one of them. But that was before the legitimate drama possessed so many attractive rivals—before vaudeville had built its strongholds and movie theatres were operating in every ward.

It behooves the gentlemen who sit in New York booking offices to take a swing about the country. They will, if they are observing, make a few discoveries that will benefit them mightily. And Madame Petrova's conclusion is but one.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

MICROPHONE TRANSFORMERS

In a recent article the writer described a "magnetic modulator." However, many experimenters prefer to use prior methods of modulation, where one or more bulbs are employed to modulate the plate energy of the oscillating tubes, but, in order to obtain efficient modulation from such circuits, it is necessary to couple the grid circuit of the modulating tube to the microphone through the medium of a voltage amplifying transformer.

An illustration accompanying this article shows a transformer, the characteristics of which are such that, with a suitable microphone and a battery of four dry cells connected in series with the primary coil, a secondary voltage is obtained which will provide effective control of the modulated energy.

DANGERS OF FAST DRIVING

The Risk Mounts Far More Rapidly Than Car Speed

THERE IS A TENDENCY among novice owners toward dangerously fast driving, for they generally want to find out what their cars will do in the matter of speed. High speed is inherently dangerous, but especially so in the case of the inexperienced operator, who cannot be expected to possess the skill and coolness required to minimize the dangers of such indulgence. There is probably about as much effect produced by warning a genuine "speed maniac" against speeding as in cautioning a dipsomaniac against alcohol, but there are a few statements that there is no harm in making. When the speed of a car is doubled, as from twenty to forty miles per hour, the destructive force stored in it is four times the energy exerted in case of a collision. There is four times the energy available to mangle the passengers and break up the car. If it runs over a bump there is four times the tendency to throw out the passengers or to turn the car over. The tendency to leave the

EXCESSIVE GEAR NOISE

C. D. B. asks: Of late my car has been running very noisily on first and second speeds. It is quiet on third, but on the geared speeds there is a grinding noise that is much more noticeable than it used to be.

Answer: It is probable that this increase of noise is due to nothing more serious than the lack of proper lubrication. The lubricant may be so thin that it does not reach the bearings effectively. If the latter is the case and has been so for some time, the bearing may have worn enough to give the gear-shifts sufficient play to cause the gears to grind. New bearings may be necessary. Extreme misalignment of the gears has been known to result in springing one or more of the shafts, and this of course makes the gears very noisy. A gear which has been badly chipped or roughed-up by careless handling will also give rise to undue noise.

INSTALLING SHOCK ABSORBERS

A. R. S. asks: I will shortly get my new car and the agent suggests that I have it equipped with shock absorbers before it is turned over to me. Do you recommend this?

Answer: As shock absorbers can readily be installed in a car at any time, we should advise you to wait until you have used the car for a while and have found out whether or not they are required. After you have taken a few long trips, over rough roads, you will be better able to make a decision.

MACHINISTS OPEN GLENDALE PLANT

Welding Works Is Launched By Experienced Men On South Orange

With the opening of the Glendale Welding Works, 134 South Orange street, its proprietors and partners, J. P. Strombom and F. Petersen, believe they have met a vital need in this city for a specialized kind of work.

Welding, brazing and cutting of all sorts is the work they plan to specialize on, and they state that they can handle any job, no matter how large or how small.

Their facilities are understood to be of the best, with many of the most up-to-date machines in their line of work, together with ample room for the growth they anticipate will result from the satisfactory service they are equipped to give.

Messrs. Strombom and Petersen both come from Los Angeles. Mr. Strombom is a master machinist, who for many years conducted an experimental laboratory in Chicago. Mr. Petersen for years worked at the machinists' trade in Los Angeles. Both appear to be thorough experts at their line of work and should enjoy a prosperous business in Glendale, they believe.

VERSES TELL OF VILLAGE OF YAWN

Place Where Old Timers Are Never Worried Over Anything

Just contrast for a moment the town of "Yawn" with a wide-awake city like Glendale. Ever heard that name? Perhaps not under that name. The author of the poem, Roy O. Denison, of 702 East Harvard street, says in a letter to the editor of The Glendale Evening News, that "Yawn" is one of those little old villages where the old-timers are never worried about anything."

THE TOWN OF YAWN
My friend, have you heard of the town of Yawn,
On the banks of the river Slow?
Where blooms the Walt-a-while flower fair,
And the soft Go-easy grows?

Where the Sometime-or-other scents the air,
And the soft Go-easy grows? It lies in the valley of What's-the-use.

In the province of Let-her-slide,
That tired feeling is native there,
It's the home of the listless I-don't-care.

Where the Put-it-offs abide;
The Put-it-offs never make up their minds,
Intending to do it tomorrow—
And so they delay from day to day,
Till business dwindles and profits decay.

And their days are full of sorrow,
—Roy O. Denison.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FIRE STICKS

Once upon a time Uncle Wiggily saw Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys, tramping along through the woods, each with a bundle on his back.

"Hello, Jackie and Peetie!" called the rabbit gentleman. "Are you running away from home with your bundles on your backs? I hope you are not again going to join a circus, as you once did."

"Oh, no; we aren't going to do that," barked Jackie. Then, pulling his little brother's tail, he whispered: "Go on—you tell him."

"We're playing at being Boy Scouts, or I guess, maybe, I should say Dog Scouts," spoke Peetie. "We're going off in the woods to make a fire and cook our dinner."

"And we haven't any matches, either," said Jackie. "Then how are you going to build a fire and cook your dinner if you haven't any matches?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"We're going to make a fire with fire sticks," answered Peetie. "You just rub the sticks together until they get so hot they catch fire," went on Jackie. "And when there is a little fire you put on some dried bark and some leaves and make a larger fire, and then you can cook."

"And we have some nice juicy bones to boil, and carrots to put in, with potatoes, and we're going to make soup," said Peetie.

"And if you want to come with us we'll give you some baked carrots, Uncle Wiggily," kindly offered Jackie.

"Well, that is very good of you, I am sure," said Uncle Wiggily. "I should like to see you make a blaze with fire sticks."

Off through the woods went the puppy dog boys, with their camp kettles, their soup bones and the carrots in packs on their backs. Uncle Wiggily followed after, just like Jack and Jill, only a little different, of course.

Soon the three friends reached a pleasant place in the woods. The green leaves were beginning to come out on the trees and bushes.

"We'll make our fire here," barked Peetie. "You get the dried sticks, Jackie, and I'll put the things in the soup kettle."

"All right, I'll make the fire," offered Jackie.

Uncle Wiggily sat on a stump and watched Jackie rubbing two dry sticks together to make a fire. But, though the sticks became quite warm there was no blaze at all.

"I wonder what's the matter?" said Jackie.

"Perhaps you aren't rubbing hard enough," answered Uncle Wiggily. "Let me try." Well, the bunny gentleman rubbed the sticks together harder and faster, but though they got warmer there was still no fire. Then Sammie Littleleaf, the boy rabbit, came hopping through the woods.

"Ho! Ho!" laughed Sammie.

"What's the matter?" asked Jackie.

"You aren't rubbing hard enough," answered Uncle Wiggily. "Let me try." Well, the bunny gentleman rubbed the sticks together harder and faster, but though they got warmer there was still no fire. Then Sammie Littleleaf, the boy rabbit, came hopping through the woods.

BURNS ON INQUIRY

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—William J. Burns, chief of the department of justice investigators, arrived in Los Angeles to make a thorough personal investigation of the purported confession of Herbert Wilson, convicted murderer and jail breaker, that he made the explosives used in the famous Wall Street bomb explosion in New York, which took a toll of thirty-seven lives. However, Burns declared he did not think Wilson had anything to do with the bomb or knew anything concerning it.

BOXER SUSPENDED

TENTON, N. J., April 18.—Floyd Johnson, heavyweight, and his manager, Charley Cook, were indefinitely suspended by the New Jersey boxing commission. The ban followed the failure of Johnson to meet Fred Fulton, in Jersey City, contracted for by Cook. Johnson, who will meet Jess Willard in a fifteen-round bout in New York City on May 12, for the chance at the heavyweight title, was threatened with suspension in New York state by William Muldoon, boxing commissioner, if he went through with the Fulton contest.

IN REAL LIFE

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Gloria Swanson, film actress, will soon play a passive part in her latest court drama of real life, her default having been entered on the records in divorce court by her husband, Fred Fulton, president of a film company. With the entering of the default, the case was in position to be set for trial.

licity committee, reported that the space at the Merchants' Industrial Exposition, from May 25 to June 3, has all been sold with the exception of $3000 worth, and this, he stated, would be gone before the end of this month. The amount already contracted for runs to $10,000. Three local firms, he said, are now figuring on the contract for the electric work of the exposition, and on the figures submitted will rest the decision of the committee, in whose hands the matter has been left by the Chamber of Commerce, as to who gets the contract. It was brought out during the discussion that any attempt to impose what the committee regarded as too exorbitant a profit on the exposition management might result in the building being placed with some other firm whose bid adhered more closely to actual cost, plus a reasonable profit.

The electricity will be supplied at cost by the city, according to arrangements that have been concluded, and it is planned to erect a sign across Brand boulevard, at the exposition site, within the next few days, that will serve to advertise the exposition.

Tells of Schools

Principal George U. Moyle of the Glendale Union High school was present and expressed his pleasure at witnessing the attempt to bring the Chamber of Commerce into closer relations with the local schools, as he believed that a more intimate knowledge of educational conditions here would result in added benefit to the schools. He stressed the need that exists for economy and close supervision of school expenditures as well as the necessity for room for the various classes, especially the manual training classes where the students are being trained for useful employment.

It was suggested that the Chamber of Commerce bear the expense in connection with the display of the work of the manual training classes that is to be shown at the exposition, and this matter will be decided by the board shortly.

Peter L. Ferry reported on the progress that has been made by the committee, stating that the approved of the plans as already submitted, and that all that remains is for the city council of Los Angeles to set the final seal of approval on the project. Representatives of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night attended a meeting of the San Fernando Valley Association of Chambers of Commerce, when the sewer proposition was discussed, the Glendale representatives lending their support to the plans adopted by the other organizations interested. W. R. Bentley succeeds W. C. Page as the representative of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in the valley organization.

The date for the meeting and dinner of the Chamber of Commerce committee was set for Friday, April 27, when the plans for the year's work of each committee will be taken up in detail.

Decorate City

Representatives of the Odd Fellows appeared before the board and asked the merchants of the city be urged to decorate their places of business on Saturday, April 28, the date on which the order will celebrate the 104th anniversary of its founding and when at least 3000 visitors are expected to be here in connection with the celebration. The request was granted and it was also planned to urge the local business houses to decorate their stores in time for the parade of the boys that is to be held on April 27, in connection with National Play Week. Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce will appear before the City Council tonight and ask for the co-operation of the MANY radio listeners, especially in Tujunga, heard and were entertained by George Harris on Saturday night when he spoke from a Los Angeles broadcasting station and gave his talk on the "Philosophy of the Hill Tribes" and "The Society of Guinea Hens." This part of the program was of special interest to local people as Mr. Harris is one of the pioneers of Tujunga and has made his home here for many years. Bolton hall, the American Legion Post No. 250 headquarters, is the work of Mr. Harris and was built ten years ago when the town was an unknown quantity.

The philosophy talk, as taken from the air via the radio, consisted, in part, of the following:

"Everybody acts and speaks according to his own light, or should, mostly, and this is the way like Gibson has figured it out after a good deal of profound meditation. He knows all the different definitions of the word 'charity,' so will not discuss its various interpretations."

"The Gibson says: 'Of the three graces, Faith, Hope and Charity, Faith is really the greatest. Hope is born of Faith and Faith is an offspring of confidence and will, while Charity is merely an accident. Promiscuous material charity is of no importance whatever so far as human betterment is concerned, and is one of the greatest curses of civilization.'"

"Because promiscuous material charity breeds paupers and parasites as prolifically as a garbage can breeds flies or a stagnant pool breeds mosquitoes—and that's it."

Goes Rather Strong

"He goes it pretty strong in these bold assertions, but sometimes it is necessary to slap a man in the face or hit him with a club before he will sit up and listen, or think about it. I've taken a chance of being dubbed egotistical by writing in the first person singular because 'we' are speaking exclusively for 'ourselves' and do not wish to hold the whole community responsible for what 'we' say or do 'we' care to assume publicly that nearly everybody is with 'us' in 'our' opinions. That, it would seem to 'us,' would be a nearly smack of egotism than to assume personally all responsibility for what 'we' say, as I was about to remark: 'I am of the opinion that poverty could be eliminated from the commonwealth, in a very few years, if private charity were abolished and all relief for the poor and needy were put under intelligent supervision of the state. I would place a penalty on private giving of alms and obligate every recipient of assistance from the state to be sound in body and mind.'"

"Benevolent institutions and private charities are prompted by social parasites who peddle moral advice for a living and do nothing of a useful character. They themselves are beggars who have intelligence enough to organize and make a big business of begging."

"It is not a kindness to give a beggar something for nothing, without obligation. Instead of helping, you demoralize him and may start him on a road to dependence when otherwise he might become a useful citizen and an asset to that state."

"Hope? You may be filled to overflowing with hope and still sink into the slough of despond; but if you have faith—faith in yourself, faith in humanity, faith in the world generally (also faith in your wife), you may overcome all obstacles and rise to the pinnacle of success, physically, mentally, morally and spiritually."

"Ike Gibson says: 'If you don't city in carrying out the decoration of the streets.'"

The paving of Glendale avenue will also be taken up with the council by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

A number of changes in the personnel of committees were announced.

The question of a site for the proposed Nash Motor company's factory and assembly plant that is to be erected in the southern part of this state, was taken up, and it was declared that the company is looking with favor on Glendale as a possible site for the plant if the proper arrangements can be made, and the Chamber of Commerce will conduct an investigation to determine, through its industrial committee, to see whether a suitable location can be secured.

PLAN TO LAUNCH NEW SUBDIVISION

Twining & Myers to Develop New Verdugo Woodlands Tract Shortly

A new sub-division, located in the heart of the Verdugo Woodlands and including some of the most beautiful scenery in Southern California, will be opened for sale to home-seekers within the next few weeks, according to announcement made last night by W. L. Twining, head of the firm of Twining & Myers, 211 1/2 South Brand boulevard, at the dinner of the firm given to its sales and office forces at the Citizens' Building last night. The property that the firm has acquired, Mr. Twining stated, is the cream of the land in the Verdugo Woodlands, with two all-year-round streams running through it and with groves of beautiful trees to add beauty to it. Most of the lots in the entire tract, when it will have been subdivided, will be sold to the people, and on all of them the immense trees will furnish shade and enhance the attractiveness of the property that will be offered for sale.

The deal for this tract has been in progress for some time, he declared, but it has only been within the last few days that the firm has been in a position to make known its plans for the development of the property, which consists of fifteen acres in the very heart of the finest section of the scenic wonderland that lies just northeast of Glendale, and as soon as the preliminary plans have been completed, the tract will be cut up into residence lots and will be offered to the people of this city and adjacent towns.

Another announcement of importance was made by Mr. Twining when he said that the firm has leased new and larger premises at 227-A South Brand boulevard, and they expect to be housed in their new offices within the next month. The business has grown to such an extent since Twining & Myers started business here recently that it has been found necessary to secure more space to accommodate the firm's sales force and its rapidly increasing list of clients. A tract office is to be established at the corner of Opechee way and Canada boulevard, also.

Talks of Progress
Mr. Twining gave a brief summary of the progress that is being made in the sale of one of the firm's tracts, Honolulu Acres, stating that the streets will be in on the property within four or five days. Sales of this property, he said, have been most encouraging, and within a very short time the entire tract will have been disposed of to buyers who are seeking homesites here. Mesa Crest, the other sub-division that Twining & Myers are putting on the market, is rapidly assuming the aspect that has been mapped out for it, with the surveyors working on it, laying out the property along the lines that will permit its development in such fashion as to produce the most attractive results for the buyers, and the streets, curbs, gas and electric mains will be installed within the next ninety days, when the property will be made the subject of a high pressure campaign that will bring to this region a large number of buyers of better class property.

In a straight, personal talk to the members of his staff, Mr. Twining declared that the essentials of success in the firm's business are organization, co-operation and discipline, and with these as a foundation he intends to build up a working force that will be second to none anywhere and that will be kept busy selling real estate to the thousands of residents and newcomers who are flocking in here for years to come. Twining & Myers, he stated, are doing business along the highest ethical lines and no deviation from this standard will be countenanced, the customer must be told clearly the status of every piece of property in which he is interested, and no promises must be made other than those that the firm has authorized and which it is, therefore, prepared to support to the limit.

Pete Welsh, the recently appointed sales manager of the firm, spoke of his pleasure at being associated with the Twining & Myers organization and pledged his co-operation and assistance to every man on the staff in putting over the trades that are brought into the office.

City Manager W. H. Reeves also spoke, detailing some of his experiences in the real estate business when he was broke and when the man who tried to sell agricultural land in certain sections of this state for $50 an acre was regarded as a crook or as a candidate for the foolish house. He apologized for the absence of Mayor Spencer Robinson, who was expected to attend the dinner, but who had been detained in Los Angeles on business.

Growth Only Begun
The growth in real estate values in Southern California is due to the influx of the thousands of men and women and of the hundreds of millions of dollars that are constantly being poured into this part of the state, declared L. H. Myers, the firm's partner, and the development of the country rests upon the co-ordination of the efforts of the real estate men and the newspapers. The growth of the Southland is only in its infancy, he asserted, and he predicted that the future will see even greater advances in values than it has yet witnessed, for no method for computing the growth of Southern California has yet been worked out. Mr. Myers also dwelt on the ethical standards to be maintained in the business, declaring that it is the greatest and most solemn thing

Statewide Drive On Tax Dodgers To Net Big Sum

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—After two months spent in ferreting out California corporations which have dodged payment of the federal capital stock tax, Robert Hageman, an inspector of the internal revenue department, announced here today that the department will launch a statewide drive to recover more than $15,000,000 in delinquent taxes.

Nearly 30,000 California corporations failed to pay the federal tax last year, according to information gained by Inspector Hageman during an intensive search of corporation records in the secretary of state's office.

The majority of the delinquent corporations have never paid the tax since it became effective in 1917. In addition to the six years' tax total now due they will be charged a 25 per cent penalty unless they failed to make return through ignorance of the law, Hageman stated.

The federal statute is all-inclusive in its definition of "corporations," according to the revenue inspector, and such state-exempt organizations as churches, social clubs and fraternal orders, must make a return under the capital stock tax. Churches, however, will not be required to pay the tax unless they operated at a profit. Social clubs and fraternal organizations will be assessed regardless of whether they have a fixed capital stock, the tax being based on the assets.

The federal tax is $1 per thousand of capital stock with an exemption of $5000.

LEADER PREVENTS BUDGET CONTEST

Administration Floor Chief Raises Point of Order Against Motion

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News
SACRAMENTO, April 18.—Another budget fight was avoided by the adroit generalship of Assemblyman Henry Carter, administration floor leader in the lower house. He raised a point of order against Fellom's motion to consider Appropriation Bill 999 as a committee of the whole, and was sustained by Speaker Merriam. Today the bill comes up for third reading and passage.

The Assembly will be asked to discuss what promises to be one of the most contentious measures offered this session—that of Rev. David C. Williams, providing for the teaching of any authorized version of the Bible in California schools.

Expect Opposition

Chairman C. C. Baker and Assemblyman Clara Woodbridge were the only members of the educational committee voting against the bill as amended, "Do Pass." Biblical instruction, according to Rev. Williams, is not to be given from the bible as a defined subject but will deal with religious history in its relation to literature and morals.

The language of the amended bill makes biblical instruction permissive but it is expected that great opposition will be found among certain creeds conducting their own religious educational institutions, with controversy bound to result, according to Chairman Baker.

High School Youths In Wrestling Tourney

Preliminaries in a wrestling tournament, in which entries are divided into six classes according to weight, are being held this afternoon under the direction of Coach Eugene Wolfe in the boys' gymnasium at Glendale Union High school.

Among the boys, who will participate, will be the following: John Judd, Lawrence Potter, Charles Thompson, Arthur Palmer, Francis Moffett, Melvin Todd, Fred Gleason, Robert Searle, Forrest Krug, Tedd Haig, Arnold Jensen, George Jewett, Ralph Putnam, Elwood Dietrich, John Altman, Alfred Johnson, Bryant Small, Robert Potts, Cyril Walton, Wilbur Davis, John Thompson, Graham Latta, Alvin Brown, Douglas Maillard, Masuri Horik, George Butterly, Richard Ryan, Lee Payne, Fred Stofft, Earl Boehm, Angelo Brucker, Harry Fish, Gordon Barton, Clifton Clouse, Alton Marshall, Floyd Kinnan, and Louis Dotson.

he knows of to be permitted to settle someone in a home where he may become a part of the community.

It is the intention of the firm to hold these staff dinners at intervals of a month apart, so that the force may be brought into closer personal relation and in order that the organization may develop into the most efficient and aggressive in Southern California. Twenty-five men and women comprise the sales and office force at present, and it is predicted that this number will be found too few to handle the rapidly increasing business of the firm.

DEATHS INCREASE

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—Deaths reported from the state at large during 1922 totaled 51,968, representing an increase of 4,589 over the preceding year, according to mortality statistics announced today by L. E. Ross, head of the bureau of vital statistics.

The increase in the death rate was nearly 1 per cent greater than the rate of gain in population, Ross stated.

Deny Labor Shortage Upon Pacific Coast

any can be hired for factory work, and very few for summer resorts, a haven of refuge for the unemployed in the past.

The only workers now applying for jobs are Chinese, agents say. The agents attribute the acute shortage to the desertions of the cities by unskilled labor, hiring out for farm work, immigration to Canada and the return of foreigners to their native lands.

Laborers in Demand
CHICAGO, April 18.—Men, who are physically fit to "rough it"—that is, men who possess the necessary brawn to accomplish the tasks which require manual labor in various industries—are a scarce commodity through the Middle West.

This was the consensus of opinion advanced by a score of agents here today to International News Service, in support of Judge E. H. Gary's declaration that a shortage of labor exists. Approximately 1200 men are being shipped daily to cities and towns within a radius of 400 miles from Chicago. Managers of these agencies declare it is somewhat early to secure laborers for outside work, and that the labor shortage will continue at least until the weather moderates.

On the other hand, the agencies declared, saw mills and the steel mills have a plentiful supply of men and laborers have been having to make applications for employment direct to the superintendent of these mills. This is attributed to the wages, which strike a higher scale than those in several other industries, they said.

To Be Put to Work
WASHINGTON, April 18.—World war veterans who are receiving training from the government in vocational schools will be put to work in the steel mills and other industries of the country to overcome the present labor shortage, according to plans announced today by Brigadier-General Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau.

Statistics show that the average woman marries at the age of 25 years.

STOCKS, MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 18.—The stock market closed firm today. Activity slackened somewhat in the last hour but the majority of stocks maintained a strong tone. Cuban Cane went to 63, a gain of over 2 points.

Profit-taking in Du Pont and General Motors continued, although the former rallied to 142 1/2. Canadian Pacific at 160 reached the highest price since 1919. Other railroad stocks closed at the high prices of the day. Columbia Gas rose 2 points to 112 1/2.

Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

In Grain Market

CHICAGO, April 18.—Grains eased off in all months on the Chicago market today. Profit-taking was blamed for the decline, despite reports of heavy abandonment of acreage throughout the winter belt.

Wheat finished 1/4 to 1c lower; corn closed 3/4 to 1 1/4c off; oats eased off 1/4 to 3/8c.

Provisions also showed losses, lard closing 10 to 15c and ribs the same.

Dempsey May Fight Gibbons on July 4

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 18.—Relief that Jack Dempsey will fight Tommy Gibbons in Shelby, Mont., on July 4, was expressed here late yesterday by promoter Mike Collins of Chicago. Collins has conferred with Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, and a figure was set by Kearns for the champ's end. Loy J. Molumby, representing the Shelby interests in the fight promotion, agreed to the amount named by Kearns, which was not made public. Molumby says that without a doubt half a million dollars can be raised in Montana alone on a drive that is to be started soon. Ticket sales amounting to 125,000 have already been raised before the bout was arranged, Molumby said.

JURY DISAGREES

SAN DIEGO, April 18.—Frankly disappointed but far from disheartened, it appears count for anything, Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, on whose guilt in the murder charge brought against him a jury disagreed last night, faced today as another day. That he will be tried again for the alleged murder

FIGHT RESULTS

AT NEW YORK—Pete Hartley, New York, won decision over Nick Foley, Brooklyn, twelve rounds.

AT CHARLOTTE, Pa.—Cuddy De Marco, of Charlotte, knocked out Eddie Gallagher, Akron, seven rounds.

AT ALBANY—Nate Settle, welterweight champion of New England, fought twelve rounds to a draw with Alex Trambitas, of Portland, Ore.

FLEE FROM FIRE

CHICAGO, April 18.—Eighteen families were forced to flee from their homes in night clothes and a dozen women were carried by firemen down ladders or stairways to safety in an early morning apartment fire here today. Panic-stricken women were leaning from windows when firemen arrived on the scene. Several were removed to hospitals and were treated for smoke inhalation and hysteria.

of Fritz Mann, the little dancer whose body was found on the Torrey Pines beach last January, is certain, according to District Attorney Kemper.
